

Speaker Bio

Sandi Steinfeld MPH, CIC

Director: Marketing and Consulting; Regional Director: Austin, TX, and Western USA; LTACs and Acute Psychiatric

Sandi Steinfeld, MPH, CIC, has practiced infection prevention for 14 years. She is a lead infection preventionist with IP&MA and regional director for Austin and Denver. She has extensive experience in facility program assessment and management, policy development, and JCAHO and CMS survey preparation.

She attended the University of New Mexico where she obtained a Bachelor of Science in Athletic Training and a Master of Public Health in Disease Control with a concentration in Epidemiology from the University of Texas School of Public Health. Ms. Steinfeld's repertoire of facilities includes acute care, long term acute care, rehabilitation, psychiatric and ambulatory surgery centers.

Sandi has published in Critical Care Nurse Clinics of North America and Rehabilitation Nursing. Sandi has previously held local chapter office for the APIC Houston.